ANTIOCH FESTIVAL PROMISES TO BE HILARIOUS

Three Days of Ramping Fun and Folly for Everybody

Antioch is going to step right out on August 12 and keep on stepping through the 13th and 14th with a festival that is going to be everything a festival ought to be. The Lions club is sponsoring the event and that group of gentlemen includes a number of fellows that really go places and do things, in witness whereof look what they're doing here!

In the first place there's that Shorts Parade for which the entry blanks are to be filed with the Antioch News. There's going to be plenty of pulchritude displayed in that parade and the nice thing about it for the gals is—when one wins a prize in that parade she's really got something. A pretty face won't do it. The shorts parade will feature other charms, and it'll be a contest of stream-lines versus curves, or what-have-you.

Second in interest will be the beauty contest; a trifle more sedate, that, but fraught with interest to those that can qualify. And for this, too, the entry blanks are ready and waiting to be filled in.

Free Ox Barbecue

All right; now comes the 1000-lb. ox barbecue with a professional chef roasting the meat right on the ground so that the consumer knows it's an honest-to-goodness barbecue, not a phony. Frank Schoenholz, with thousands of authentic barbecues to his credit, will travel here from Dixon, Ill., bringing a crew of six men to roast the oxmeat on the good earth.

As if that were not enough those rampaging Lions have planned dancing for every evening on a sectional dance floor that's a wow, with an orchestra that'll set the crowd swinging, all the way from babies up to the centenarians, and how!

There will be games, plenty of them, and every prize at these booths will be staple merchandise, up to the value of $25.00. No hideous dolls or white elephants to be lugged around to a dumping ground.

Jim Takes Over

Jim McMillen, chairman of the Bingo committee, will be in charge of the game—Jim, the eye-filling, soul-satisfying, runt—terrifying heavy-weight wrestler who always packs 'em in, regardless of sex, politics or religion.

Irving Elms is chairman of the committee on soft drinks; R. G. Holtz, chairman of the bar; Jim Stearns, firemen's amusements; Ed Vos, dance floor; R. C. Abt, amusements; Robert Mann, decorations; Roy Murrie, finance; Irving Carey, lighting; J. E. Brook, general cashier; George Bartlett, grounds committee.

Mr. Kucera "Goes to Town"

The newest member of the Lions club is Adolph Kucera who went to town on the advertising end of the festival arrangements. He produced amazing results not only in the promotion of advertising, but in securing the merchandise prizes.

The whole thing will wind up on the evening of the 14th, with one grand, glorious display of fireworks, of a magnitude sufficient to fire the soul of the spectators with an enthusiasm designed to last over till next August and another festival like this one—What, ho!

Lake Villa Recreation Postpones Pet Show

One of the features of the day is to be a popularity contest for young ladies. Girls wishing to register for the contest are asked to get in touch with Charles Cernak.

Antioch Dairy Judges Win County Champ.

In addition to winning the Fat Stock Judging championship last week Wednesday the Antioch 4-H club also won the Dairy Judging contest on Friday.

With a score of 828 the Antioch boys surpassed their nearest rivals by 78 points. Otto Gussarson of Antioch was the high point man of the entire contest.

Other members of the team who will represent Lake county at the State contest at the University of Illinois on August 1st, are Leo Keisler, Robert Denman and Richard Truax.

The teams will be accompanied by C. L. Kutil and H. C. Gikerson on their trip to Urbana.

MRS. VAN DUZER, LIFE RESIDENT, DEAD AT 79

Stroke Is Fatal to Mother of Twelve; Held Funeral Wednesday

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Antioch Methodist church for Mrs. Ellen Catherine Van Duzer, 79, who died Sunday afternoon at her late home on North Main street. The services were conducted by Rev. S. E. Pollock and interment was in Hillside cemetery.

Mrs. Van Duzer had been in failing health for several months. She was the victim of paralytic strokes, the last of which occurred four days prior to her death.

She was a life-long resident of this community, and was the mother of 12 children, nine daughters and three sons. She was born in Avon township near Loon Lake on June 8, 1858, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Jones. On Sept. 30, 1877, she was married to Walter Judson Van Duzer, and the couple resided on the old homestead farm north of Antioch until 1919, when they retired and moved to Antioch. The husband's death occurred on Feb. 20, 1935.

The surviving children are: Mrs. Ada Guest, Madison, Wis.; Mrs. Erma Perkins, Onago, Ill.; Mrs. Ruth Sheen, Waukegan, Ill.; Mrs. Pauline Bratzke, Waukegan, Ill.; Mrs. Grace Pofahl, Salem, Wis.; Dora Van Duzer, Lake Villa; Mrs. Alice Schmitz, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Laura Klecka, Lake Geneva, Wis.; Lyle, Kenosha; Frank, Waukegan, and Ben, Antioch. One daughter, Mrs. Bertha Perkins, died in 1917.

HORTONS CELEBRATE 54TH ANNIVERSARY

They Have Been Residents of Antioch for 52 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Murry L. Horton, of Antioch, were the honorees of a surprise party last Sunday on the occasion of their 54th wedding anniversary. Their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Horton, were host and hostess of the affair, serving dinner and supper to twenty-five guests at the home of the senior Hortons who gained their first knowledge of the party when the guests began arriving at about 11 o'clock.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Read, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Horton and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Horton of Grayslake, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hartnell of Kenosha, and Mrs. Della Bell of Chicago, accompanied by her granddaughter, Jane Christensen. Mrs. Bell and Miss Christensen remained in Antioch a couple of days.

Mr. and Mrs. Horton were married 54 years ago at Liberty Corners in the home of the justice of the peace. It was a surprise wedding, unexpected except by the couple who attended the bride and groom; this was Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Day, the latter of whom is now living in Michigan and the former deceased.

Mr. and Mrs. Horton have lived in Antioch 52 of their 54 years of married life. Their home is on Parkway avenue. They have two children, Earl Horton, and Mrs. Eval Risch. In previous years they celebrated their 49th anniversary and their 51st, the fiftieth was unobserved, due to the death of Mr. Horton's brother. They were the recipients of many handsome gifts on the occasion of their several celebrations.

RICHARD J. LYONS RESENTS ALLEGED HORNER CRITICISM

Lake Co. Candidate for U.S. Senate Delivers Sharp Address in Rochelle

Richard J. Lyons, Republican candidate for United States Senator, characterized Gov. Henry Horner's criticism of his personal background as an underhanded and vicious piece of snobbery based upon fear of defeat for Horner's new political machine.

"Mutual friends have assured me that, upon notification of my nomination, the governor of Illinois had the ill-manners, and lack of common decency, to say, 'It is too bad that the Republicans nominated Lyons. He is a disgrace to the Republican tradition. Why, he has no social background!' Did you ever hear such an arrogant and vicious piece of snobbery in all your life?" Lyons cried, his fist beating on the speaker's stand to emphasize his remarks.

"I haven't any social background! What does the governor mean by social background? If he means that I haven't sprung from a line of wealthy forefathers and don't have thousands and thousands of dollars to my name in the bank, then he's right. If he means that I sometimes don't pick up the right knife or fork, or that I don't own top-hats and tails, then he's right. If he means that I had to work for every dollar I ever got, that my father was a teamster, and I was a messenger boy before I owned a grocery store, then he's right."

"Perhaps the Governor is afraid to run his candidate against a working man. It will be hard to beat someone like that, instead of a stuffed shirt. I know what is wrong with our present administration, I can feel it in every purchase my wife makes in the grocery store, in the hat shop, or wherever she buys. The taxes that are running this country are coming out of my pocket, and your pocket, not that of the millionaire bachelor. We, the working men and women are paying the bills. Farmers, laboring men, clerks, housewives, little business men, are carrying the burden of the New Deal spending."

BRISTOL FOLK IN ACCIDENT

A light truck belonging to Dan Sheahan of Bristol, Wis., collided this morning with a Buick sedan a little north of the Wisconsin state line, injuring the occupants of the truck.

The truck was driven by Miss Katherine Sheahan, who was accompanied by her father and mother. At the Voltz Lake road the Buick, driven by a lady, said by bystanders to be a Mrs. Slocum, cottager on Voltz Lake, came from the lake road into the highway. According to Miss Sheahan the Buick driver coming in on the east side of the highway swung onto the west side of the road to go south, disregarding the oncoming truck also going south, struck the truck fender and turned the truck over.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheahan suffered severe cuts and bruises and possible serious injuries. Dr. Bratrude was called to the scene to attend them.

The lady called Mrs. Slocum was uninjured and her car practically without damage. The front end was in a ditch on the east side of the road where the driver left it standing for sometime. Questioned as to her name by the driver of the truck the Buick driver declined to give it, declaring that she had struck nothing and offering as proof the fact that her ditched car was undamaged.

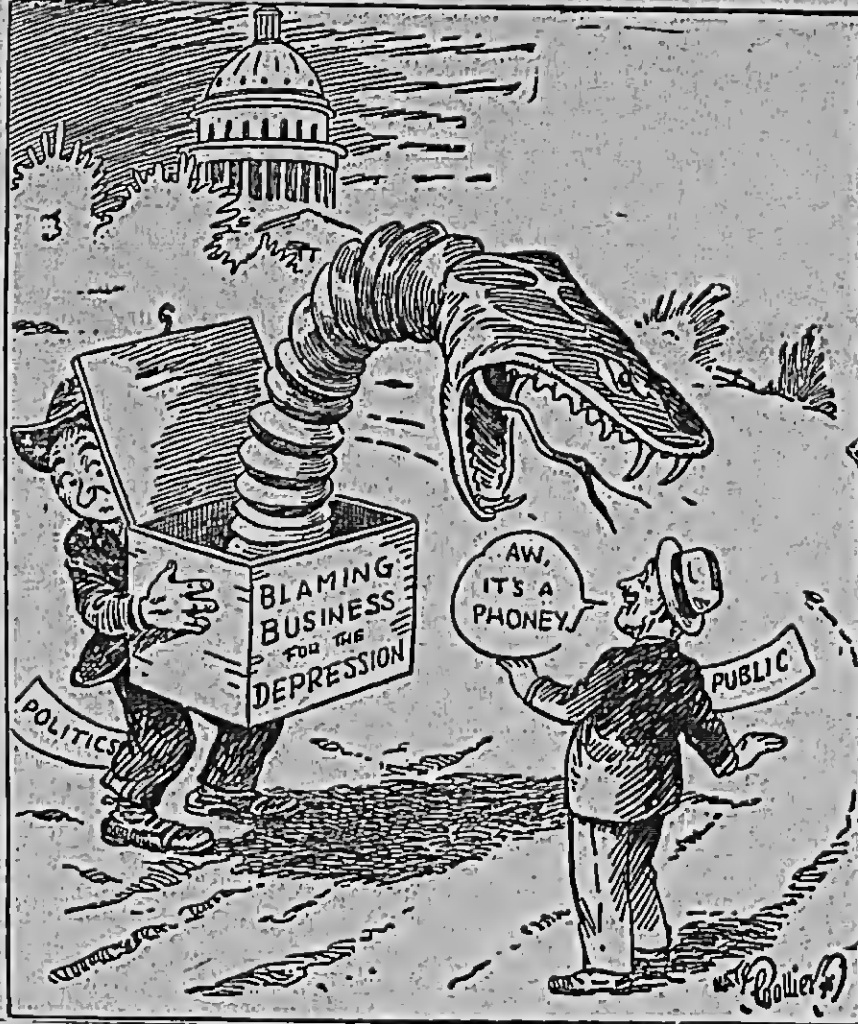

They Are Rough With Jay Walkers In Denver, Colo.

Jay-walkers and other careless pedestrians are fined just the same as reckless drivers in Denver, Colorado, according to Joseph H. Braun, general counsel of the Chicago Motor club.

"The fines run from $5 to $50, and they are imposed for walking against red lights, crossing between intersections, stepping out from between parked cars, and diagonal sauntering at corners," he said.

This experiment has netted a twenty-five per cent reduction of pedestrian casualties and a forty per cent reduction of all traffic accidents during the first five months of its enforcement, Mr. Braun added.

County Catholic Youth Federation To Give Summer Dance

On Sunday evening, July 31st, the Lake County Catholic Youth Federation will give its first summer dance, to be known as the "Federation Frolic," at Fox Pavilion, well known dance spot in McHenry, Illinois. Dancing will be from 9 to 2 a. m.

Musie for the affair will be played by Mickey Prindl and his eleven piece Decca recording orchestra. The orchestra only recently completed a winter's engagement at the famous Claridge Hotel in Memphis where its sophisticated swing version of modern tunes proved a popular addition to the musical gaiety of the southern metropolis.

Featured with the orchestra are two versatile singers, Carly Van and Lella Murray.

The dance is being arranged by the Social Action committee of the Catholic Youth Federation. The committee is composed of Virginia Carney of Wadsworth, Catherine Hubley of Lake Bluff, Vincent Zervas of Waukegan, Paul Klock of Libertyville, and Charles Cernak of Antioch. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Federation.

IMPROVED PHONE SYSTEM SOON TO BE INSTALLED

No More Turning the Crank After Next Octo- ber

Antioch will have a new modern telephone system in operation by the middle of next October, according to George L. Wilburn, manager of the Illinois Bell telephone company. The new building now being constructed on the west side of Victoria st., south of Lake, by H. C. and Lora A. Hughes will be occupied by the telephone company early in that month and the new equipment installed. The switchboard, terminal equipment, operators' quarters and the company's business office will all be in the new home.

When the new equipment goes into service all telephones in Antioch will be changed from the present "magneto" to the "common battery" type of operation in which the user signals the operator by merely lifting the telephone receiver instead of by cranking as at present. New instruments will replace the "magneto" type telephones and the familiar battery boxes will disappear since the electric current for operating the new system will be supplied by a single large battery in the central office.

The new equipment will be of the most improved manual type designed for a community of this size. The switchboard, as planned by the Illinois Bell Engineers, will consist initially of six sections but will be so constructed that as the demand for telephones increases, additional sections may be installed. To connect Antioch with neighboring points, the plans provide for ample trunk lines which may be added as required.

To provide Antioch's new service the Telephone Company will spend approximately $31,000.

NORTH CHICAGO STRIKE OVER

Employees Return to Work, Convinced of Logic of Cut in Pay

Chicago Hardware foundry employees are back at work this week almost one hundred per cent and the settlement of the strike under existing terms constitutes a victory for the foundry.

The meeting of the conciliators held last Saturday afternoon resulted in an agreement that the employees would take a five per cent cut now, and a contract will be negotiated this week providing for a five per cent cut August 1, the entire 10 per cent cut to be effective for six months.

Whether a contract is signed or not the total 10 per cent cut is to be effective for six months; the conciliators examined the accounts of the company Saturday and informed the CIO representatives that either the employees must accept the cut or the foundry would have to close.

The settlement further provided for the withdrawal of pickets from the foundry grounds and the discontinuance of vacations with pay this summer. Strikers were to be returned to work with no discrimination against them.

Federal conciliator Harry E. Scheck announced that he would confer with Judge Ralph Dady and ask him to withdraw contempt charges against Robert Wirtz, school teacher, strike leader, and several pickets. He will also ask State's Attorney Mason to nolle prosequere two indictments—those naming Meyer Adelmann, Oakley Mills, Wirtz, and seventeen others for conspiracy and intimidation.

Sheriff Deolittle estimates that the sum of $9,000 was spent by the county in the business of protecting life and property and carrying out court orders during the strike.

Summer Residents to Be Guests of Altar Society

The CIO at North Chicago

The strike that has tied up the North Chicago Hardware Foundry seems to be at an end and probably nobody is as glad as the strikers—or rather the workers, for many of them were not strikers.

Those who did take part in the strike, or a number of them, were worked into it by high pressure men of the CIO and professional "strikers" brought along by them to keep the picket line reinforced. Otherwise the employees and their employers no doubt would have settled the wage dispute long ago and the families of the employees would have been spared much privation.

Nobody gained anything through the long-drawn out strike except the CIO, fast becoming famous as a trouble-making, profiteering outfit, contributing much to communism and little to the elevation of labor.

No fair-minded individual is going to dispute labor's right to collective bargaining and we all like to see our neighbors getting fair wages and living the way Americans should live, with the comforts and conveniences that Americans are accustomed to having, but there is no gainsaying that hard times react on the employer as well as on the employee and business has not been so good during the past few months that it justifies increased wages, maybe in some cases it even justifies a cut.

For many years labor has known the right to collective bargaining. Under the leadership of the American Federation of Labor the laborer has seen a good deal of prosperity, good living conditions and well-conditioned homes. Only since John L. Lewis rose to power has labor become the breeding place of unrestrained violence and indifference to law. And many things that have occurred during the Lewis regime point to the conclusion that the CIO is operated principally for that gentleman's gain and personal aggrandizement.

In William Green labor had—and has—a good leader, balanced, intelligent, fairly loyal to his following and sincere in his Americanism. The followers of CIO would do well to return to his fold.

Merit System Is on Waiting List

There is no need to grow optimistic over hopes that the merit system will—all of a sudden, replace political spoils—which have always had the best of the merit plans in Government employment. It may be that some forward steps will be made towards Government reorganization, but that will not come in a hurry. When it does there will have to be a Congress in the saddle that thinks more of the United States than it does of political patronage and reprehensible politics, such as now control the Nation.

Job

Pity the poor candidates. Before them lies the task of stumping a country that's already almost completely stumped.

Right

It is getting harder and harder for the taxpayers to believe that this is a free country.

English Sentiment Against "Peace at Any Price"

The New York Herald-Tribune's London correspondent recently observed that if the Franco-Hitler-Mussolini combination continues to sink British merchantmen carrying supplies to Loyalist Spain, it may eventually "sink the Chamberlain government to boot."

Sentiment in England against the Prime Minister's "peace at any price policy" is growing. A short time ago the Government suffered a major loss when Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, president of the League of Nations Union, and a winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, rose in the House of Lords, declared that Chamberlain's policy was "inconsistent with British honor," and resigned his position as Conservative Party whip. That is about as startling as if Majority Leader Barkley should rise in the Senate and declare himself opposed to the New Deal.

In the commons, Chamberlain easily defeated a Labor Party motion of censure. But ten members of the Conservative wing, led by brilliant erratic Winston Churchill, refused to vote, and one Conservative M. P. voted for the motion. Chamberlain's recent speeches have tended to be worried and apologetic—something that is next to unknown in the case of a Prime Minister with a top-heavy Commons majority.

The Spanish Loyalists are lasting much better than it was believed they could, and there is a rumor that Hitler and Mussolini are planning to give Franco enough troops and supplies to enable him to win a fast and decisive victory. If that happened, the fight against Chamberlain would undoubtedly reach a fever pitch.

Politics on the Air

Political broadcasting will soon become a good deal of a public nuisance. In a few weeks you will likely find, when you go to a friend's house for a quiet evening, that he will tune in on a radio station and make you listen to somebody that he wants to hear—the same "somebody" that you don't want to hear.

Under the new rules of the Federal Communications Commission there is a provision prohibiting stations from exercising censorship of any speech broadcast by a duly qualified candidate. This opens the way to more mud-slinging than has been permitted on the radio in the past.

While political candidates will all have to pay the radio bidder the facilities will be open as at present to free programs. And those are frequently the worst of all.

Dictators Fear Freedom

"One of the first things dictators and communists demand is the right of free speech, and one of the first things to which an end is put when they get into power is freedom of speech and freedom of the press. There is no freedom of speech or of the press in Russia, Italy or Germany. Dictators are afraid of the truth."—Southwestern Oregon News, Marshfield, Oregon.

Taploca Made From Plant Roots
Taploca, also known as cassava and manioc, is made from the roots of the manioc plant. The native home of the manioc is Brazil, but it is produced in a limited way in Puerto Rico, Jamaica and Trinidad.

However, on account of the cheap labor in the Far East, its cultivation was begun there and has developed until the greater part of the world's supply comes from the East Indies, the Straits Settlements and Japan.

"Go West, Young Man"
According to an authority, the expression, "Go West, young man," was used by John Babson Lane Soule in an article in the Terre Haute (Ind.) Express in 1851. Horace Greeley was attracted by the expression, and used it in an editorial in the New York Tribune.

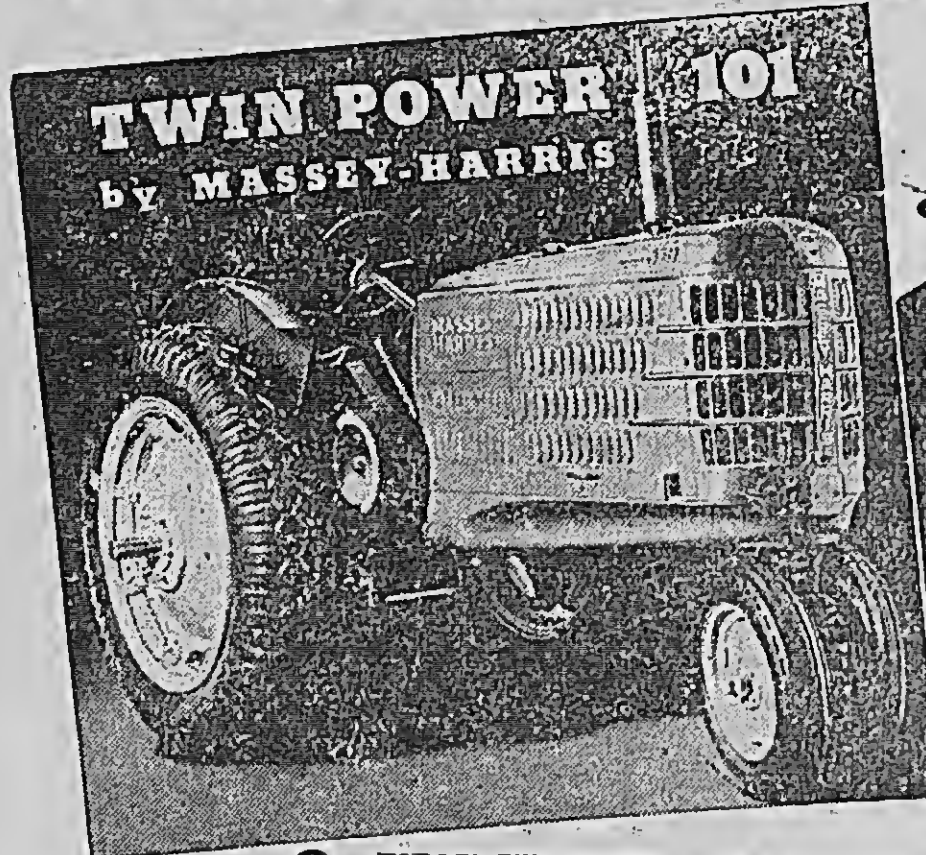

As the saying "Go West, young man, and grow up with the country," gained popularity, Greeley printed Soule's article, to show the source of his inspiration.

Wrote "Hymn of Hate"
Ernst Lissauer, the German poet who wrote the "Hymn of Hate" against England in 1914, was ruined by this work. Throughout the war, about 60,000,000 Germans recited it almost daily, says Collier's Weekly. In 1919 Lissauer's countrymen, ashamed of their past vehemence, exiled him to Austria where, until his death, his works were banned, as in Germany.

NORTH CHICAGO WILL CELEBRATE

Eleventh Annual Three-day Program Will Start Wed., August 3

The eleventh annual North Chicago Days celebration gets underway Wednesday, Aug. 3, sponsored by the American Legion Sharvin Post No. 397, and backed by business and professional men.

The celebration opens with Republican day and the second day is designated as Democratic day. Candidates for county offices will be introduced and Ferre C. Watkins will address the crowd in the interest of Richard J. Lyons, Lake county candidate for United States Senator, who is unable to be present. On Democrats' day Scott W. Lucas, the Democratic candidate for the U. S. senate will appear in person. All county candidates of the two parties will be introduced on their respective days.

Free old time and modern dancing will be featured on both Thursday and Friday evenings, with Frank W. Stiles, popular dance caller, at the microphone. George Biedeman, general chairman of the celebration, extends a cordial invitation to all who enjoy dancing.

Starting with Wednesday there will be a baseball game every afternoon during the week at 6:30. On Sunday the program will be climaxed with a parade, headed by massed colors of all the American Legion posts in Lake county, and reviewed by Lawrence Applequist, state commander of the American Legion. Different posts will put on a drum and bugle corps competition. At five o'clock on Sunday afternoon certain of the corps will have a competitive contest in Foss Park for cash prizes totaling $525. Foss Park will be the center of the entire three-day program.

Grays Lake Arena Gets More Romantic About Wrestling

Advance publicity on the wrestling match to be staged at the Grayslake arena Friday night of this week all but leads the reader to believe that wrestlers are beginning to go in for the good old sex appeal angle, like they do it in the movies. No longer does the publicity writer rely on the brawn and burliness of the contestants and the promised brutality of the event to draw a crowd. He throws in an intriguing line about the million-dollar legs (page Marlene Dietrich) of this week's headliner, Fred Grubmeyer, and ecstatically assures the fans that they will get an eye-fel when Fredrick Van Schacht, one of the preliminaries, "peels his robe."

Rudy Kay will have it out with Grubmeyer in the main bout and the more or less romantic sounding Van Schacht will tangle with one Arabian called Mansor. Van Schacht, incidentally, is named as a German heavyweight champion and is a delectable 6 foot 6 inch bit of masculinity, pulling down a good 245 pounds. So the feminine fans may rest assured that if he's not an aesthetic eye-fel he is at least a healthy one.

Ruffy Silverstein will return Friday night to face Otto Schmale, of the Schmable brothers wrestling team. The winner of the Grubmeyer-Kay match will be in line for a match with Jim McMillen. McMillen met King Kong again last Friday night in what King Kong designated as a satisfaction match. The match was a draw and King Kong's body-guard equipment seemed to go over pretty well as there was no repetition of the rough-handling from the fans that spoiled the evening for him on his former appearance at Grayslake. The match in itself was rough enough and fairly satisfactory to the most sadistic of the onlookers, but the truth is the referee stole the show on this occasion. He was a six foot seven inch baby by the name of Lew Gardon, who simply socks King Kong or whatever you in the jaw when his orders are taken too lightly. He didn't try such tactics on Jim McMillen, but Jim has got that certain something that discourages getting fresh with him.

SOLVING OF MINE BOMBING VICTORY FOR SCIENTISTS

Proves Worth of Methods and Sets Precedent for Use of Such Evidence.

Evanston, Ill.—How modern scientific methods of criminal investigation led to the solution of a mine bombing case and set a legal precedent for the admissibility of such evidence in a court of law is told by Prof. Charles M. Wilson of Northwestern university's scientific crime detection laboratory in the current issue of the Journal of Criminal Law.

In 1935 a bitter feud between two rival coal mine unions had created a situation bordering upon civil war in the southern Illinois coal fields. A series of bombings, murders and wholesale intimidations culminated in the bombing of the power house of the Valler Coal mine at Valer, Ill.

The law enforcing officials called upon the scientific crime detection laboratory of Northwestern university to investigate the bombing.

All of the resources of the laboratory were utilized in the investigation. From the shattering effect of the explosion, Dr. C. W. Maehberger, expert on bombings and explosions, was able to establish the fact that a "high" explosive had been used and that therefore the damage could not have resulted from coal dust or gases.

Alarm Clock Gives Clue.

In examining the scene of the explosion, the university's investigators found the battered remains of an alarm clock, together with six dry cells and several brass gears. Attached to the alarm clock were two types of wire, pieces of adhesive tape and a length of linen twine which had been used in the construction of the timing device.

M. E. O'Mell, the laboratory chemist, compared a piece of linen cord attached to the alarm clock which set off the bomb with cord found in the workshop of two suspects and found them to be similar in color, number of strands, direction and twist.

The suspects were subjected to an examination by means of the polygraph or "lie-detector" by Prof. Leonard Keeler, director of the laboratory. His wife, Mrs. Katherine Keeler, expert examiner of questioned documents, assisted the investigation by establishing the similarity of a piece of adhesive tape removed from the alarm clock with a piece found in possession of the suspects.

The "clenching" evidence was obtained by Professor Wilson who established the fact that two strands of wire used in constructing the mechanism of the alarm clock timing device were similar to a sample of wire found in the suspect's workshop.

In his investigation, Professor Wilson employed the same technique used by police scientists in identifying fired bullets. Photomicrographs—pictures taken through a microscope—were made of the ends of the wire found on the clock and in the workshop.

Sets a Precedent.

This is believed to be the first time in the history of police science that photomicrographs have been used in the investigation of implements other than bullets.

By means of this comparison, Professor Wilson was able to establish that not only had both pieces of wire been drawn from the same die but that they had originally been immediately adjacent to each other in the same shaft of bimetallic wire.

Before arriving at this conclusion and in an effort to properly interpret his results, Professor Wilson examined numerous wire specimens obtained from various manufacturers. He also visited a number of wire mills and obtained first-hand information relative to the manufacture of wire.

As a result of the evidence obtained by the Northwestern scientists, the suspects were convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary. The admissibility of the evidence was recently upheld by the Supreme court of Illinois which sustained the trial court's conviction.

Pants Pocket Blazing

Initiates a Fire Chief

Fairport Harbor, Ohio.—George Kuntinen, new fire chief, received a scorching initiation into his duties. Bustling with efficiency, he entered a store where he had smelled smoke. The manager also had smelled smoke. They searched the building, attic to basement. The odor of smoke followed them, but they found no fire.

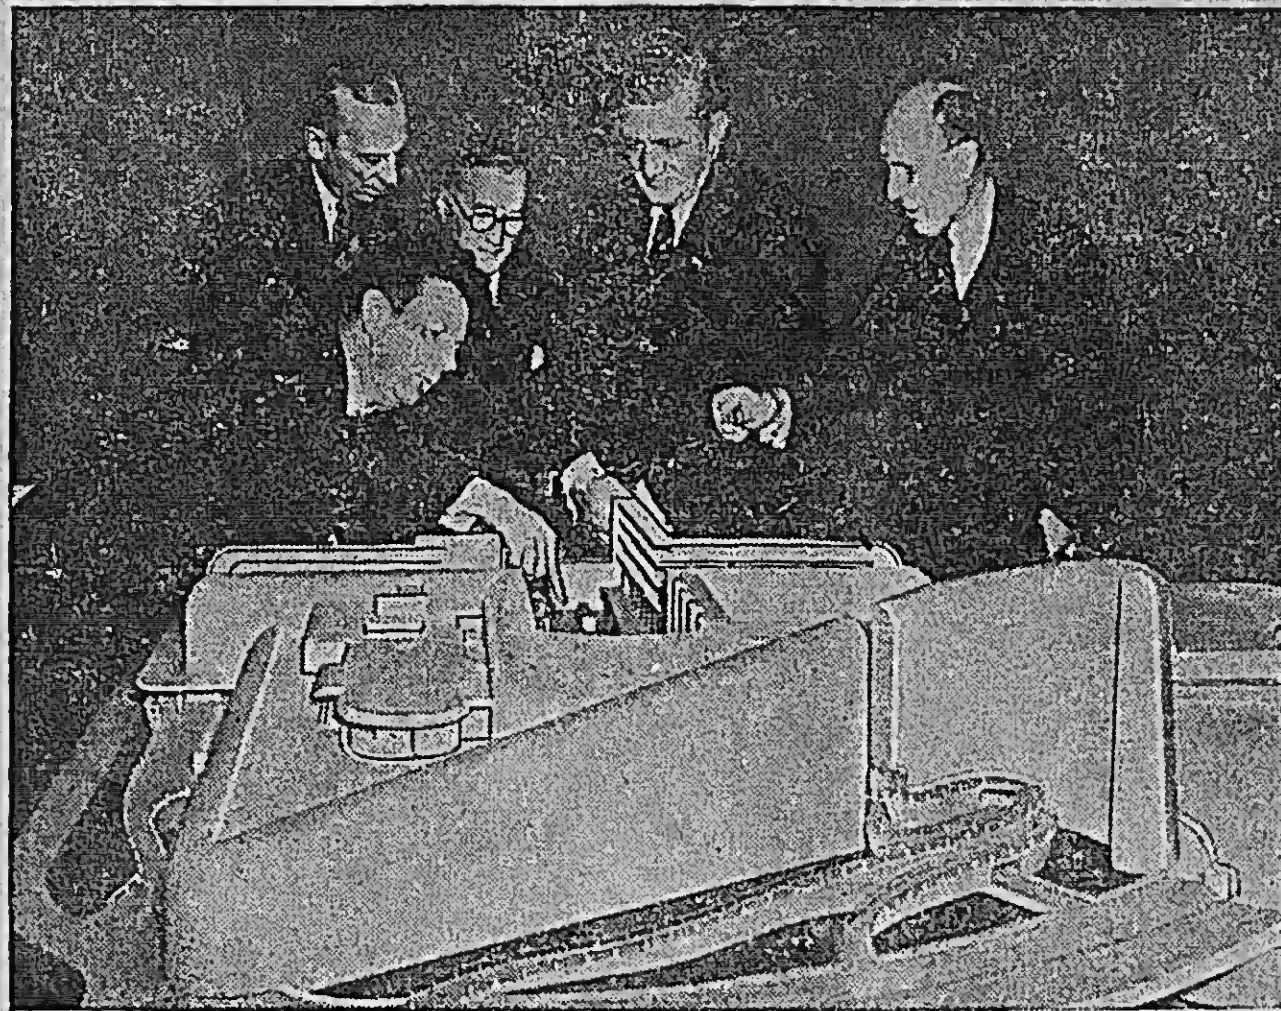

The chief went outdoors and checked automobiles at the curb. None was burning. At that point in the search, the chief suddenly found the fire—in his pants pocket, a scorcher of a blaze having started from a pack of matches which had ignited in his pocket.

Herder Frustrates Lion

by Stuffing Its Mouth

Bombay.—Attacked by a lion in the jungle near Jhansi, a young herder saved himself by whipping off his turban and stuffing it in the animal's mouth, according to word reaching here. While the animal struggled to eject the heavy folds of cloth, the youth escaped.

They're Looking at the Motor Traffic of 1960

A CONCEPTION of motor traffic facilities in the world of tomorrow, in which express boulevards will carry with ease an unbelievable volume of traffic at high, controlled speeds, with day and night driving equally safe and accident-free, almost impossible, will be shown in the General Motors exhibit at the New York World's Fair. William S. Knudsen, President, has announced. The exhibit will be known as "Highways and Horizons."

In commenting on the exhibit, which was designed by Norman Del Ceddes, Mr. Knudsen pointed out that it was not the purpose of General Motors to forecast in detail what the highways of the future will be, but rather to give expression to the belief that such development will take place on an important scale and perhaps within a shorter period of time than most people now realize.

Visitors will begin their tour of "Highways and Horizons" in comfortable, moving chairs, mounted on a continuous escalator. They will be transported over what will appear to be hundreds of miles of future express superhighways and feeder roads connecting these highways with present roads. The tour will be climaxed when the visitor emerges from his Aladdin-like traveling chair onto a full-size street intersection in the "World of Tomorrow."

Extending for almost a city block in four directions, the spectacular street intersection, forming the center section of the building, will present a living picture of the architecture, motor traffic and pedestrian facilities of the future. The architect for the building will be, Albert Kahn of Detroit.

Medicine From Gourds

Gourds appear in medicine and in olden times nearly all members of the family had some such use. Purges are the chief medicines derived and come from roots of some and from leaves of others. Elatium is a drug obtained from the juice of the squirting cucumber. When ripe the prickly fruit, two inches long, explodes with a loud report. One end is blown out and the pulp, including the seeds, are projected several feet. This move gets the seeds away from the home base—so that they may "run to other bases" and spread themselves. The small wax gourd of Asia is considered an emblem of fertility.

Waukegan Motorists Take All Green Lights for "Go"

Now that Waukegan has some new traffic lights the authorities are having some difficulty explaining their usage to motorists. There is one light at Washington street and Sheridan road that seems to convey an ambiguous meaning to motorists; complaint is made that west bound traffic hesitates for no signal but goes through continuously, menacing and annoying all drivers bound north and south, and even east.

Attention is called to the fact that while westbound traffic has a green light all the time is not all the time a "go" light. Green, it is explained, can have another significance; in this case there is one green light at the corner in question that indicates a right turn. There is an arrow in this green light and the motorist who doesn't grasp the significance of the arrow is likely to find himself in city court for a violation of traffic rules.

Watch Out for Grasshoppers!
Carl J. Weinman of the Grasshopper Control of the U. S. Department of Agriculture was in the county last week and found a large quantity of grasshoppers present in alfalfa and red clover. These are apt to move to the next field or injure the new growth of clover. These are apt to move to the adjoining field the grasshoppers are apt to go in and do much damage. He recommended that a strip of uncut alfalfa or clover, a few feet wide, be left in order that these grasshoppers can go in there. This will serve as a trap and then bait these strips several times after the grasshoppers have been concentrated in them. It might be well to bait the margins of those cut fields on the sides joining soybeans or corn.

Mr. and Mrs. Galiger Honored
The Lake Villa and Libertyville Recreation Staff gave a surprise party to honor the joint birthdays of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Galiger at their home in Waukegan on Friday evening, July 22. The Galigers were presented with a beautiful crystal sandwich set and a lovely floral offering and two boxes of candy.

Dickens House in London
Dickens house in London is situated at 48 Doughty street, W. C. 1. Charles Dickens lived there from 1837 to 1839, and in that time finished "Pickwick Papers" and brought to life "Oliver Twist," "Nicholas Nickleby," and "Barnaby Rudge." The house is maintained, almost unchanged, as a library and museum. It contains the novelist's reading desk, chair, some of his books, autographs, engravings, portraits, the original manuscripts of "Pickwick Papers," and a large number of translations into foreign languages, including Chinese, Japanese, and Arabic.

Youth Like Spring
Samuel Butler in "The Way of All Flesh," said: "To me it seems that youth is like spring, an over-praised season—delightful if it happens to be a favored one, but in practice very rarely favored and more remarkable, as a general rule, for biting east winds than genial breezes."

Port Wine
Port is a wine in which fermentation has been checked by adding spirit.

Some of them will be seen tonight in the MariaAnne style show at the city hall in Lake Villa where several of the prettiest maids and matrons about the Lake region will prance for the edification of the ladies who want to keep right up to now on what's in the mode. The models will be Miss Dojan Hamilton, Miss Eileen Philippi, Miss Ayleen Kappeler, Mrs. William Mattison, Mrs. Gus Swanson and Mrs. Robert Hartley. The Antioch Pottery Plant is entertaining visitors these days. That is news because the plant is very busy and it is seldom that they permit the routine to be upset by sight-seeing tours. It is a liberal education in the art of china-making, too, to go through the plant and watch the evolution of three simple raw materials into the lovely finished product that the Pottery plant manufactures. The three materials are flint, feldspar and china clay; in the process of evolution they are thrown together into a ball with a lot of little round stones that grind the whole into a fine powder; in the course of 18 hours of turning the mill. From there the powder goes to an agitator for the extraction of all metal, and from that through a 200 mesh screen for further refining. On from there to the pressure bags for the removal of all water, then to the plug mills for the removal of air, and then we are ready to really go places.

The material for hollow ware goes into plaster paris casts for molding and the material to be transformed into plates and such flat ware is subjected to an impudent little implement called the jigger which puts the finishing touch to anything that comes within its range. Then after that the heat, and plenty of it. Some 80 hours or more of 2450 degrees Fahrenheit, then lesser degrees and cold water immersions to fortify the chinaware against chipping, cracking of glaze, etc. Mrs. A. G. Simon, wife of the plant manager, makes a charming hostess and knows her stuff when it comes to piloting the sight-seer and telling her how. And here's SOMETHING: you'll find any number of darling china pieces, at about one-fourth their actual selling price, just because of imperfections so small the naked eye can scarcely find them.

Guest Mantis is playing to the jaded appetite with the most delicious midsummer menus at his very busy Antioch Restaurant. Cool, immaculate and inviting, the place is the rendezvous of many interesting summer vacationers, and Gust has a chef who
